8 continuum of services to children and adults who are developmentally disabled; and

9 WHEREAS, the system for delivering services to children and adults who are 10 developmentally disabled should be both simple and nonintrusive; and

11 WHEREAS, requirements resulting from the ARC lawsuit may still exist which may no

13 WHEREAS, the state could find opportunities to remove duplication of administrative 14 requirements, especially in the area of audits; and
