- 2 A. Bill and fiscal impact summary: Provide a brief summary of the measure, including description of the provisions having fiscal impact (limited to 300 characters).

HB1317 would require the Department to create a program to provide financial assistance for costs associated with pregnancy resulting in adoption. Costs are estimated to be roughly $2,098,182 for 2021-2023.

- B. Fiscal impact sections: Identify and provide a brief description of the sections of the measure which have fiscal impact. Include any assumptions and comments relevant to the analysis.

Section 1.1 of HB1317 would require that the department need an additional FTE to be able to develop and implement the program and the rules related to pregnancy to adoption program. These costs associated with the FTE would be estimated at $197,664 (including costs for computer, tech fees, etc.) The position was based on position being Human Service V, pay based on 1st quartile.

Section 1.1 of HB1317 would require that the department provide financial assistance to individuals for costs associated with a pregnancy that results in the adoption of a newborn. Such costs could include: completion the adoption study, collect information on the birth parents and child, provide birth parent counseling and support, the costs related to the relinquishment of the birth parents rights (attorney and court costs) and costs related to the support of the birth parent (which may include things like food, housing, and gas to support her during her pregnancy). This would NOT include the legal fees the adoptive parents would have to finalize the adoption. Expenditures are estimated to be $1,800,000 for 72 adoptions for the 2021-2023 biennium.

Section 1.2 of HB1317 requires payments of medical expenses incurred for the labor and delivery of a child adopted as a newborn. Per an article from CBSNews.com, the average cost of giving birth in North Dakota was $9,255 before insurance. Per an article from Reuters.com, the average cost of giving birth was $4,569 with insurance. Information gathered from an adoption agency within North Dakota, roughly 70% of the birth mothers were on Medicaid, and therefore, their labor and delivery expenses would be covered. The remaining estimated 30% of the population would need their labor and delivery charges covered. Using the Reuters estimate, expenditures are estimated to be $100,518 for 22 birth mothers for the 2021-2023 biennium.
