92-01-02-13. Merger, exchange, or transfer of business.

1. Definitions. In this section:

- a. "Business entity" means any form of business organization, including proprietorships, partnerships, limited partnerships, cooperatives, limited liability companies, and corporations.
- b. "Constituent business" means a business entity of which a surviving entity is composed.
- c. "Surviving entity" means the business entity resulting from a merger, exchange, or transfer of business assets from one or more constituent businesses.

2. Experience rating. The surviving entity resulting from a merger, exchange, or transfer of business assets will be assigned an experience rating derived from the combined premium, payroll, and loss history of all the employer accounts involved in the merger, exchange, or transfer. The employer accounts of the constituent businesses shall merge, exchange, or transfer into the surviving entity. The organization may change the experience rating of the surviving entity.

If the organization determines a business entity is a continuation or extension of an already existing business entity and not a surviving entity composed of one or more constituent businesses, and the existing business entity is already experience-rated, the experience rate of the existing business entity will transfer to its continuation or extension. Future experience rates will be calculated using the combined premium, payroll and loss history from the existing business entity and its continuations or extensions.

3. Compensation coverage.

- a. The organization may transfer compensation coverage of any constituent business to the surviving entity. The organization may require the surviving entity to provide information on the constituent businesses of which it is comprised and its owners, officers, directors, partners, and managers. If the organization determines a surviving entity is merely a continuation of the constituent business or businesses, the organization may transfer the premium liability to the surviving entity or decline coverage until the delinquency is resolved.
- b. Factors the organization may consider in determining if a surviving entity is a mere continuation of a constituent business include:

- (1) Whether there is basic continuity of the constituent business in the surviving entity as shown by retention of key personnel, assets, and general business operations.
 - (2) Whether the surviving entity continues to use the same business location or telephone numbers.
 - (3) Whether employees transferred from the constituent business to the surviving entity.
 - (4) Whether the surviving entity holds itself out as the effective continuation of the constituent business.
- c. The organization shall calculate premium based on actual taxable payroll for the period of time involved. The organization may prorate the payroll cap based on one-twelfth of the statutory payroll cap per month per employee at the beginning of the period of time involved.

92-01-02-14. Procedure for penalizing employers accounts for failure to pay premium or failure to submit payroll reports.

1. The organization shall bill each employer for premiums as provided by North Dakota Century Code chapter 65-04. If an employer has an open account with the organization, the organization may send to the employer a payroll report on which the employer shall submit payroll expenditures for the preceding payroll reporting period. The employer shall provide on the payroll report all information requested by the organization, including the name, social security number, rate classification, and gross payroll for each employee. The employer shall submit an electronic report of payroll information in a format approved by the organization. The report must be received by the organization by the last day of the month following the expiration date of the employer's payroll reporting period. The organization shall consider an unsigned or incomplete submission a failure or refusal to furnish the report.
2. The organization shall send the first billing statement to the employer by regular mail to the employer's last-known address or by electronic transmission. The first billing statement must identify the amount due from the employer. The statement must explain the installment payment option. The payment due date for an employer's account is thirty days from the date of billing indicated on the billing statement. If a previous delinquency exists on the employer account, the billing statement indicates a past-due status.
3. If the organization does not receive full payment or the minimum installment payment indicated on the billing statement, on or before the payment due date, the organization shall send a second billing statement.

4. If the minimum installment payment remains unpaid thirty days after the organization sends the second billing statement to the employer, the organization shall notify the employer by regular mail to the employer's last-known address or by electronic transmission that:
 - a. The employer is in default and may be assessed a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars plus two percent of the amount of premium, penalties, and interest in default;
 - b. The employer's account has been referred to the collections unit of the policyholder services department; and
 - c. Workforce safety and insurance may cancel the employer's account.
5. The organization may extend coverage if the organization and the employer have agreed in writing to a payment schedule on a delinquent account. If the employer defaults on the agreed payment schedule, that employer is not insured.
6. If the employer's payroll report is not timely received by the organization, the organization shall notify the employer, by electronic transmission or regular mail addressed to the last-known address of the employer of the employer's failure to submit the payroll report. The notification must indicate that the organization may assess a penalty of up to five thousand dollars against the employer's account.
7. If the payroll report is not received by the due date provided by letter from the organization to the employer, the organization shall assess a penalty of fifty dollars. A second fifty-dollar penalty is assessed against the employer if the payroll report remains unsubmitted after an additional fifteen days. The organization shall notify the employer of the penalty by electronic transmission or regular mail addressed to the employer's last-known address.
8. At any time after sixty days following the expiration of the employer's payroll period, when the employer has failed to submit a payroll report, the organization may bill the employer consistent with North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-19. An employer whose premium has been calculated under this subsection may submit actual wages on an employer payroll report for the period billed and the organization shall adjust the employer's account unless the organization determines the information submitted by the employer is unreliable or inaccurate.
9. The organization may cancel an employer's account which has failed to pay premium owing or failed to submit a payroll report.
10. If the organization receives an employer payroll report more than sixty days after the expiration of the employer's payroll period, the employer's billing statement may show a past-due premium billing due date. Any employer account billed without benefit of the employer payroll report may show a past-due billing due date.
11. If the employer does not have an open account with the organization, the organization shall send the employer an application for coverage by regular mail or by electronic transmission. The organization shall notify the employer of the penalties provided by North Dakota Century Code chapter 65-04 and this section.
12. Upon receipt of an incomplete or unsigned payroll report, the employer shall submit the completed payroll report within fifteen days of the organization's request. The organization shall consider an unsigned or incomplete submission to be a failure or refusal to furnish the report. If the payroll report is not timely received by the organization, the organization may assess a penalty of up to five thousand dollars and shall notify the employer that the employer is uninsured.

92-01-02-18. Experience rating system.

The following system is established for the experience rating of risks of employers contributing to the fund:

1. Definitions. In this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
 - a. "Three-year losses" means the total sum of ratable losses accrued on claims occurring during the first three of the four years immediately preceding the premium year being rated.
 - b. "Three-year payroll" means the total sum of limited payroll reported for the first three of the four years immediately preceding the premium year being rated.
 - c. "Three-year premium" means the total sum of earned premium for the first three of the four years immediately preceding the premium year being rated.

- d. "Manual premium" means the actual premium, prior to any experience rating, for the premium year immediately preceding the premium year being rated for claims experience.
2. An employer's account is not eligible for an experience rating until the account has completed three consecutive payroll periods and has developed aggregate manual premiums of at least fifteen thousand dollars for the rating period used in developing the experience modification factor.
 3. For accounts with ratable manual premium of fifteen thousand dollars or more:
 - a. The experience rating must be applied prior to the inception of each premium year for all eligible accounts. A claim is deemed to occur in the premium year in which the injury date occurs.
 - b. The experience modification factor (EMF) to be applied to the current estimated portion of an employer's payroll report is computed as follows:
 - (1) Calculate the actual primary losses (A_p), which consist of the sum of those three-year losses, comprising the first fifteen thousand dollars of each individual claim.
 - (2) Calculate the actual excess losses (A_e), which consist of the sum of those three-year losses in excess of the first fifteen thousand dollars of losses of each individual claim, limited to the maximum loss amount contained in the most recent edition of North Dakota workforce safety and insurance rating plan values which is hereby adopted by reference and incorporated within this subsection as though set out in full.
 - (3) Calculate the total expected losses (E_t), which are determined by adding the products of the actual payroll for each year of the three-year payroll times the class expected loss rate for each year. The class expected loss rates, taking into consideration the hazards and risks of various occupations, must be those contained in the most recent edition of North Dakota workforce safety and insurance rating plan values, which is hereby adopted by reference and incorporated within this subsection as though set out in full.
 - (4) Calculate the expected excess losses (E_e), which are determined by adding the products of the actual payroll for each year of the three-year payroll times the class expected excess loss rates. The class expected excess loss rates, taking into consideration the hazards and risks of various occupations, must be those contained in the most recent edition of North Dakota workforce safety and insurance rating plan values, which is hereby adopted by reference and incorporated within this subsection as though set out in full.
 - (5) Calculate the "credibility factor" (Z) based on the formula that is contained in the most recent edition of North Dakota workforce safety and insurance rating plan values, which is hereby adopted by reference and incorporated within this subsection as though set out in full.
 - (6) The experience modification factor is then calculated as follows:
 - (a) Calculate the "ballast amount" (B) which is contained in the most recent edition of North Dakota workforce safety and insurance rating plan values, which is hereby adopted by reference and incorporated within this subsection as though set out in full.

- (b) Add the actual primary losses to the product of the actual excess losses times the credibility factor.
- (c) To this sum add the product of the expected excess losses times the difference between one dollar and the credibility factor.
- (d) To this sum add the ballast amount (B).
- (e) Divide this total sum by the sum of the total expected losses plus the ballast amount (B).

The resulting quotient is the experience modification factor to be applied in calculating the estimated premium for the current payroll year.

- (7) The formula for the above-mentioned calculation is as follows:

$$EMF = \frac{A_p + (Z \times A_e) + [(1.00 - Z) \times E_e] + B}{E_t + B}$$

- 4. Small account credit or debit program. Accounts that fall below the eligibility standard for experience rating outlined in subsection 2 are subject to the small account credit or debit program. The rating period and ratable losses used to determine eligibility for the small account credit or debit program are the same as those used for the experience rating program outlined above. The amount of the credit or debit will be determined annually in conjunction with the development of rating plan values for the prospective coverage period.
- 5. The organization shall include any modification to the North Dakota workforce safety and insurance rating plan values in its ratemaking process pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-01.

History: Effective June 1, 1990; amended effective July 1, 1993; July 1, 1994; April 1, 1997; July 1, 2001; July 1, 2006; July 1, 2009; July 1, 2010; July 1, 2016.

92-01-02-18.1. Application of discount to experience rate for employers establishing operations in this state.

If an employer who is beginning operations in this state can prove that for similar operations in another jurisdiction the employer received an experience-rate-based discount on workers' compensation premiums in that jurisdiction, the organization may discount that employer's premium in this state. The employer must be setting up a permanent operation and the discount must be part of an economic development package. The discount will be applied after one year. Premium discounts for the employer's second through fourth years of operation in this state will be retrospectively based on the employer's most recent out-of-state experience rate. Premiums for the employer's fifth year of operation in this state will be based on the applicable experience rating programs in this state. The out-of-state employer discount may not exceed the maximum allowable discount under the organization's experience rating plans. An employer who self-insured in another jurisdiction is not eligible for the discount.

92-01-02-19. Employer relief after third-party recovery.

Upon third-party recovery pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-01-09 in claims which have been accepted by the organization and when the employer's experience rating has been affected, relief will be given to the employer from the date of injury to the balance of the experience rating period. Relief will be given to the extent of the actual net recovery made by or on behalf of the organization, after deduction from the gross recovery of the costs and attorney fees allowable under North Dakota Century Code section 65-01-09.

"Relief will be given" indicates that the amount of money recovered by the organization in a third-party action will be deducted from the amount charged against the employer's experience rating. This may result in a decreased premium for policy periods impacted by the revised experience rates. An account that has been canceled is not entitled to relief under this section.

Relief will also be given to the extent of the employer reimbursement paid by the employer pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-04.4, provided that the net recovery made by or on behalf of the organization is equal to or exceeds the total chargeable expenditures made by the organization on the claim plus the reimbursement made by the employer. An employer who has not timely paid reimbursement under North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-04.4 forfeits any right to relief for that reimbursement.

92-01-02-24. Rehabilitation services.

1. When an employment opportunity suited to an employee's education, experience, and marketable skills is identified within thirty-five miles [56.33 kilometers] from the employee's home, the appropriate priority option must be identified as return to related occupation in the local job pool under subdivision e of subsection 4 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05.1-01, and relocation expense under subsection 3 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05.1-06.1 may not be paid.
2. The organization may award services to move an employee's household where the employee has actually located work under subdivision f of subsection 2 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05.1-06.1 or under subsection 3 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05.1-06.1 only when the employee identifies the job the employee will perform, the employee's employer, and the employee's destination. A relocation award must be the actual cost of moving the household to the location where work has been obtained. A minimum of two bids detailing the costs of relocation must be submitted to the organization for approval prior to incurring the cost. The organization shall pay per diem expenses, as set forth under subsection 2 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28, for the employee only. Reimbursement for mileage expenses may not be paid for more than one motor vehicle.
3. When the rehabilitation award is for retraining, the organization shall pay the actual cost of books, tuition, and school supplies required by the school. The school must provide documentation of the costs necessary for completion of the program in which the employee is enrolled. Reimbursable school costs may not exceed those charged to other students participating in the same program. The award for school supplies may not exceed twenty-five dollars per quarter or thirty dollars per semester unless the employee obtains prior approval of the organization by showing that the expenses are reasonable and necessary. A rehabilitation award for retraining may include tutoring assistance to employees who require tutoring to maintain a passing grade. Payment of tutoring services will be authorized when these services are not available as part of the training program. The award for tutoring services may not exceed the usual and customary rate established by the school. Expenses such as association dues or subscriptions may be reimbursed only if that expense is a course requirement.

4. An award for retraining which includes an additional rehabilitation allowance as provided in subdivision b of subsection 2 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05.1-06.1 may continue only while the employee is actually enrolled or participating in the training program.
5. An award of a specified number of weeks of training means training must be completed during the specified period of weeks, and rehabilitation benefits may be paid only for the specified number of weeks of training.
6. The organization may reimburse an employee's travel and personal expenses for attendance at an adult learning center or skill enhancement program at the request of the employee and upon the approval of the organization. All claims for reimbursement must be supported by the original vendor receipt, when appropriate, and must be submitted within one year of the date the expense was incurred. The organization shall reimburse these expenses at the rates in effect on the date of travel or the date the expense was incurred at which state employees are paid per diem and mileage, or reimburse the actual cost of meals and lodging plus mileage, whichever is less. The calculation for reimbursement for travel by motor vehicle must be calculated using miles actually and necessarily traveled. The number of miles actually traveled is rebuttably presumed to be the least number of miles listed by MapQuest at www.mapquest.com between the start and end points of travel. The organization may not reimburse mileage or travel expenses when the distance traveled is less than fifty miles [80.47 kilometers] one way, unless the total mileage in a calendar month equals or exceeds two hundred miles [321.87 kilometers].
7. The organization may pay for retraining equipment required by an institution of higher education or an institution of technical education on behalf of a student attending that institution. The organization will award retraining candidates one thousand two hundred dollars for the purchase of computer, warranty, software, maintenance, and internet access. Securing and maintaining these items are the injured employee's responsibility. Failure to maintain or secure these items does not constitute good cause for noncompliance with vocational rehabilitation. Improper maintenance of the equipment does not constitute good cause for noncompliance with vocational rehabilitation.
8. The organization may provide certain selected services to assist an injured employee and the injured employee's family with coping and financial strategies while in the recovery process. The recovery process includes the medical recovery, the ability to return to gainful employment, and the need for financial stability. The services may include up to six sessions with a contracted behavioral health professional, and up to four sessions with a contracted financial services professional. Injured employee participation in these sessions is voluntary. The granting or denial of contemplated services is not appealable, and costs of the program will be made against the general fund.

The evaluating health care provider must provide rationale for deciding that functional test results are clinically consistent and credible.
 - d. A functional history grade modifier may be applied only to the single, highest diagnosis-based impairment.

 - c. Concurrent care. In some cases, treatment by more than one medical service provider may be allowed. The claims adjuster will consider concurrent treatment when the accepted conditions resulting from the injury involve more than one system or require specialty or multidisciplinary care. When requesting consideration for concurrent treatment, the primary health care provider must provide the claims adjuster with the name, address, discipline, and specialty of all other medical service providers assisting in the treatment of the injured employee and with an outline of their responsibility in the case and an estimate of how long concurrent care is needed. When concurrent treatment is allowed, the organization will recognize one primary health care provider, who is responsible for prescribing all medications if the primary health care provider is authorized to prescribe medications; directing the overall treatment program; providing copies of all reports and other data received from the involved medical service providers; and, in time loss cases, providing adequate certification evidence of the injured employee's ability to perform work. The claims adjuster will approve concurrent care on a case-by-case basis. Except for emergency services, all treatments must be authorized by the injured employee's primary health care provider to be reimbursable.

- d. Telehealth. The organization may pay for audio and video telecommunications instead of a face-to-face "hands on" appointment for CPT codes designated by the American medical association as telehealth codes. As a condition of payment, the patient must be present and participating in the telemedicine appointment. The professional fee payable is equal to the fee schedule amount for the service provided. The organization may pay the originating site a facility fee at the scheduled amount.
4. Notwithstanding the requirements of subsection 5, the organization may designate certain exemptions from preservice review requirements in conjunction with programs designed to ensure the ongoing evolution of managed care to meet the needs of injured workers and providers.
 5. Medical service providers shall request preservice review from the utilization review department for:
 - a. All nonemergent inpatient hospital admissions or nonemergent inpatient surgery and outpatient surgical procedures.
 - b. All nonemergent major surgery. When the primary health care provider or consulting health care provider believes elective surgery is needed to treat a compensable injury, the primary health care provider or the consulting health care provider with the approval of the primary health care provider, shall give the utilization review department actual notice at least seventy-two hours prior to the proposed surgery. Notice must give the medical information that substantiates the need for surgery, an estimate of the surgical date and the postsurgical recovery period, and the hospital where surgery is to be performed. When elective surgery is recommended, the utilization review department may require an independent consultation with a health care provider of the organization's choice. The organization shall notify the health care provider who requested approval of the elective surgery, whether or not a consultation is desired. When requested, the consultation must be completed within thirty days after notice to the primary health care provider. Within seven days of the consultation, the organization shall notify the surgeon of the consultant's findings. If the primary health care provider and consultant disagree about the need for surgery, the organization may request a third independent opinion pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28. If, after reviewing the third opinion, the organization believes the proposed surgery is excessive, inappropriate, or ineffective and the organization cannot resolve the dispute with the primary health care provider, the requesting health care provider may request binding dispute resolution in accordance with section 92-01-02-46.
 - c. Magnetic resonance imaging, a myelogram, discogram, bonescan, arthrogram, or computed axial tomography. Tomograms are subject to preservice review if requested in conjunction with a myelogram, discogram, bonescan, arthrogram, computed axial tomography scan, or magnetic resonance imaging. Computed axial tomography completed within thirty days from the date of injury may be performed without prior authorization. The organization may waive preservice review requirements for procedures listed in this subdivision when requested by a health care provider who is performing an independent medical examination or permanent partial impairment evaluation at the request of the organization.

- d. Physical therapy and occupational therapy treatment beyond the first ten treatments or beyond sixty days after first prescribed, whichever occurs first, or physical therapy and occupational therapy treatment after an inpatient surgery, outpatient surgery, or ambulatory surgery beyond the first ten treatments or beyond sixty days after therapy services are originally prescribed, whichever occurs first. Postoperative physical therapy and occupational therapy may not be started beyond ninety days after surgery date. The organization may waive this requirement in conjunction with programs designed to ensure the ongoing evolution of managed care to meet the needs of injured claimants or providers. Modalities for outpatient physical therapy services and outpatient occupational therapy services are limited to two per visit during the sixty-day or ten-treatment ranges set out in this subsection. The number of units performed and billed per visit may not exceed four unless otherwise approved.
- e. All nonemergent air ambulance services. When the primary health care provider or consulting health care provider believes transfer to another treatment facility is needed to treat a compensable injury, the primary health care provider or the consulting health care provider or the transferring treatment facility, with the approval of the primary health care provider, shall give the utilization review department actual notice prior to the proposed transfer to the receiving treatment facility. Notice must give the medical information that substantiates the need for transfer via air ambulance service, the name of the treatment facility where transfer will occur, air service provider, and estimated cost. The organization will review the cost effectiveness and alternatives and provide notice to the requesting health care provider or treatment facility within twenty-four hours, or by the end of the next business day.
- f. Thermography.
- g. Intra-articular injection of hyaluronic acid.
- h. Facet joint injections.
- i. Sacroiliac joint injections.
- j. Facet nerve blocks.
- k. Epidural steroid injections.
- l. Nerve root blocks.
- m. Peripheral nerve blocks.
- n. Botox injections.
- o. Stellate ganglion blocks.
- p. Cryoablation.
- q. Radio frequency lesioning.
- r. Facet rhizotomy.
- s. Implantation of stimulators and pumps.
- t. Speech therapy.
- u. The organization will review all opioid therapies for medical necessity following the conclusion of a chronic opioid therapy. For injured employees whose chronic opioid therapies have been discontinued for noncompliance with North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-39, any subsequent opioid therapies may not exceed ninety days.

6. Chiropractic providers shall request preservice review from the organization's chiropractic managed care vendor for chiropractic treatment beyond the first ten treatments or beyond sixty days after the first treatment, whichever occurs first. The evaluation to determine a treatment plan is not subject to review. The organization may waive this subsection in conjunction with programs designed to ensure the ongoing evolution of managed care to meet the needs of injured employees or providers. Modalities for chiropractic services are limited to two per visit during the sixty-day or ten-treatment ranges set out in this subsection.
7. The organization may designate those diagnostic and surgical procedures that can be performed in other than a hospital inpatient setting.
8. The organization or managed care vendor must respond to the medical service provider within three business days of receiving the necessary information to complete a review and make a recommendation on the service. Within the time for review, the organization or managed care vendor must recommend approval or denial of the request, request additional information, request the injured employee obtain a second opinion, or request an examination by the injured employee's health care provider. A recommendation to deny medical services must specify the reason for the denial.
9. The organization may conduct retrospective reviews of medical services and subsequently reimburse medical service providers only:
 - a. If preservice review or prior authorization of a medical service is requested by a medical service provider and an injured employee's claim status in the adjudication process is pending or closed; or
 - b. If preservice review or prior authorization of a medical service is not requested by a medical service provider and the medical service provider can prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the injured employee did not inform the medical service provider, and the medical service provider did not know, that the condition was, or likely would be, covered under workers' compensation.

All medical service providers are required to cooperate with the managed care vendor for retrospective review and are required to provide, without additional charge to the organization or the managed care vendor, the medical information requested in relation to the reviewed service.

10. The organization must notify medical service provider associations of the review requirements of this section prior to the effective date of these rules.
11. The organization must respond to the medical service provider within thirty days of receiving a retrospective review request.

92-01-02-36. Elective surgery.

Repealed effective October 1, 1998.

92-01-02-37. Concurrent care.

Repealed effective October 1, 1998.

92-01-02-38. Changes of health care providers.

1. All changes from one health care provider to another must be approved by the organization. Normally, changes will be allowed only after the injured employee has been under the care of the primary health care provider for sufficient time for the health care provider to complete necessary diagnostic studies, establish an appropriate treatment regimen, and evaluate the efficacy of the therapeutic program.
2. North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28 governs choice of health care provider. For purposes of this rule, the following are not considered changes of health care provider by the injured employee:
 - a. Emergency services by a health care provider;
 - b. Examinations at the request of the organization;
 - c. Consultations or referrals initiated by the health care provider;
 - d. Referrals to radiologists and pathologists for diagnostic studies;
 - e. When injured employees are required to change health care providers to receive compensable medical services or time loss authorization because their health care provider is no longer qualified as a primary health care provider; or
 - f. Changes of primary health care provider required due to conditions beyond the injured employee's control. This would include when the health care provider terminates practice or leaves the area.
3. The injured employee must be advised when and why a change is denied. The organization reserves the right to require an injured employee to select another health care provider or specialist for treatment:
 - a. When more conveniently located health care providers, qualified to provide the necessary treatment, are available;
 - b. When the attending health care provider fails to observe or comply with the organization's rules;
 - c. When, in a time loss case, reasonable progress toward return to work is not shown;
 - d. When an injured employee requires specialized treatment, which the primary health care provider is not qualified to render, or which is outside the scope of the primary health care provider's license to practice; or
 - e. When the health care provider is not qualified to treat each of several accepted conditions. This does not preclude concurrent care when indicated as outlined in section 92-01-02-34.

4. When the organization finds the change of health care provider to be appropriate and has requested the injured employee to change under this rule, the organization may select a new primary health care provider if the injured employee unreasonably refuses or delays in selecting another primary health care provider.
5. The organization in its discretion may authorize a change when it finds that a change is in the best interest of returning the injured employee to a productive role in society.

92-01-02-41. Independent medical examinations - Definitions.

1. The organization may request an independent medical examination or independent medical review pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28:
 - a. To establish a diagnosis or to clarify a prior diagnosis that may be controversial or ill-defined.
 - b. To outline a program of rational treatment, if treatment or progress is controversial.
 - c. To establish medical data from which it may be determined whether the medical condition is related, or not related, to the injury.
 - d. To determine whether and to what extent a preexisting medical condition is aggravated by an occupational injury.
 - e. To establish when the injured employee has reached maximum medical improvement or medically stationary status.
 - f. To establish a percentage of rating for permanent impairment.
 - g. To determine whether a claim should be reopened for further treatment on the basis of aggravation of a compensable injury or significant change in a medical condition.
 - h. To determine whether overutilization by a medical service provider has occurred.
 - i. To determine whether a change in medical service provider is indicated.
 - j. To determine whether treatment is necessary if the injured employee appears to be making no progress in recuperation.
 - k. When the medical service provider has not provided current medical reports.
2. It is the organization's intention to obtain objective examinations to ensure that correct determinations are made of all benefits to which the injured employee might be entitled.

3. Examiners must be willing to testify or be deposed on behalf of the injured employee, employer, or the organization.
4. The organization must provide at least fourteen days' notice to the injured employee of an independent medical examination. The organization must reimburse the claimant's expenses for attending the independent medical examination pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28.
5. As used in subsection 3 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28 regarding allied health care professionals designated or approved by the organization, "duly qualified allied health care professional" means a person chosen by the organization who is an allied health care professional who has the specialization necessary to perform an independent medical examination or an independent medical review. The organization's determination of whether an individual it has chosen is a duly qualified allied health care professional and the organization's choice of the duly qualified allied health care professional who will perform an independent medical examination or an independent medical review are not appealable decisions and these decisions may not be considered when determining whether a claimant has failed to submit to, or in any way intentionally obstructed, or refused to reasonably participate in an independent medical examination.
6. As used in subsection 3 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28, "reasonable effort" means an attempt by the organization to locate and consider individuals as possible duly qualified allied health care professionals for independent medical examinations using criteria established by the organization. These attempts need not be exhaustive and need not be on a specific case-by-case basis. An attempt may consist of a review performed by the organization from time to time of individuals in North Dakota or other states in order to form an informal group from which the organization may select an examiner. Whether the organization has undertaken reasonable effort may not be considered when determining whether an injured employee has failed to submit to, or in any way intentionally obstructed, or refused to reasonably participate in an independent medical examination. Whether the organization has undertaken reasonable effort may not be considered when weighing the opinion of the examiner who performed the independent medical examination.

 - a. A description of the special or home nursing care required, including the estimated time required (i.e., catheterization, three times per day, thirty minutes; bathing, two times per day, one hour; toilet transfers as needed, dressing change, four times per day, two hours).
 - b. The skill level or special training required to administer care (i.e., R.N.; L.P.N.; family member who has received special training; or no special training required).
 - c. If known, the name and address of a person or facility willing to provide care.

- d. The length of time special or home nursing care will be required.
2. Fees for home nurse or attendant care are based upon the organization's established fee schedule.
3. The organization may authorize and pay for visiting nurse care necessary for evaluation or instruction of a home health care provider.
4. When the injured employee or injured employee's family makes arrangements for caregivers, the organization shall reimburse those providing the home nursing care.
5. Payment to individuals who provide services under this section does not constitute an employer and employee relationship between the organization and the provider of care.
6. The organization may not pay a rate for home nursing care which exceeds the cost of nursing facility care under the applicable case-mix classification in section 75-02-06-17.

92-01-02-44. Special programs.

The organization may enter into special agreements for services provided by, or under the direction of, licensed medical service providers authorized to bill the organization. Special agreements may be made for services not covered under the fee schedule and may include multidisciplinary or interdisciplinary programs such as pain management, work hardening, and physical conditioning. Special programs include new programs and pilot projects to streamline, waive, or modify selected managed care rules to provide medical care for injured employees with greater efficiency.

The organization shall establish payment rates for special agreements and may establish outcome criteria, measures of effectiveness, minimum staffing levels, certification requirements, special reporting requirements, and other criteria to ensure injured employees receive good quality and effective services at a reasonable cost. The organization may terminate special agreements and programs upon thirty days' notice to the medical service provider.

92-01-02-45. Organization responsibilities.

1. As soon as reasonably possible after receiving a bill, the organization shall:
 - a. Pay the charge or any portion of the bill that is not denied;
 - b. Deny all or a portion of the bill on the basis that the injury is not compensable, or the service or charge is excessive or not medically necessary; or
 - c. Request specific additional information to determine whether the charge or service is excessive or not medically necessary or whether the condition is compensable.
2. The organization shall provide notice of nonpayment to the injured employee when the injured employee is personally responsible for the payment of a charge. The organization shall provide notice of nonpayment to the medical service provider through a remittance advice of denial of part or all of a charge, or shall provide notice to the medical service provider for any request for additional information. The notice must include:

- a. The basis for denying all or part of a charge because the treatment was not for a compensable injury.
 - b. The basis for denying or reducing excessive charges and the specific amounts denied or reduced.
 - c. The basis for denying the charge for an excessive service.
 - d. The basis for denying a charge as not being medically necessary.
 - e. A request for records or other information needed to allow proper determination of the bill.
3. Any payment incorrectly made to a medical service provider may be recovered from the medical service provider by the organization.
 4. The organization will pay a reasonable fee for a special report as defined in section 92-01-02-29 prepared at the request of the organization. The allied health care professional shall include in the special report the time required to prepare the report or the organization may not pay for the report. Time spent and the complexity of the issues will be considered when determining the reasonableness of the fee. Such services should be billed under current procedural terminology code 99080 with a description of "special report".

92-01-02-45.1. Medical service provider responsibilities and billings.

1. A medical service provider shall complete the registration process and corresponding forms identified by the organization to receive payments for services.
2. A medical service provider may not submit a charge for a service which exceeds the amount the medical service provider charges for the same service in cases unrelated to workers' compensation injuries.
3. All bills must be fully itemized, including ICD codes, and services must be identified by code numbers found in the fee schedules or as provided in these rules. The definitions of commonality in the guidelines found in the current procedural terminology must be used as guides governing the descriptions of services, except as provided in the fee schedules or in these rules. All bills must be submitted to the organization within one year of the date of service or within one year of the date the organization accepts liability for the work injury or condition.
4. All medical service providers shall submit charges for medical services on the most current version of the UB 04, CMS 1500, or ADA form, or the corresponding electronic versions of each. All pharmacy charges must be submitted electronically to the organization's pharmacy managed care vendor using the current pharmacy transaction standard. Accepted electronic medical billing formats are outlined in section 92-01-02-45.2. Medical service bills may not include charges for more than one workers' compensation claim, and must include the following:
 - a. The injured employee's full name and address;

 - l. Charge for each service;
 - m. Units of service;
 - n. If dental, tooth numbers;
 - o. Total bill charge.
5. All records submitted by medical service providers, including notes, except those provided by an emergency room health care provider and those on forms provided by the organization, must be typed to ensure that they are legible and reproducible. Copies of office or progress notes are required for all followup visits. Documentation must be authentic to the visit and may not include cloned, copied, or irrelevant documentation for purposes of up-coding a service. Office notes are not acceptable in lieu of requested narrative reports. Communications may not refer to more than one claim. Addendums and late entries to notes or reports must be signed and must include the date they were created. Addendums or late entries to notes or reports created more than sixty calendar days after the date of service may be accepted at the organization's sole discretion.
6. Medical service providers shall submit with each bill a copy of medical records or reports which support the necessity of a service being billed and its relationship to the work injury, including the level, type, and extent of the service provided to injured employees. Documentation required includes:
- a. Laboratory and pathology reports;
 - b. X-ray findings;
 - c. Operative reports;
 - d. Office notes, physical therapy, and occupational therapy progress notes;
 - e. Consultation reports;
 - f. History, physical examination, and discharge summaries;
 - g. Special diagnostic study reports; and
 - h. Special or other requested narrative reports.

7. If the medical service provider does not submit records with a bill, and still does not provide those records upon request of the organization, the charges for which records were not supplied may not be paid by the organization, unless the medical service provider submits the records before the decision denying payment of those charges becomes final. The medical service provider may also be liable for the penalty provided in subsection 6 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-07.
8. Disputes arising out of reduced or denied reimbursement are handled in accordance with section 92-01-02-46. In all cases of accepted compensable injury or illness under the jurisdiction of the workers' compensation law, a medical service provider may not pursue payment from an injured employee for treatment, equipment, or products unless an injured employee desires to receive them and has accepted responsibility for payment, or unless the payment for the treatment was denied because:
 - a. The injured employee sought treatment from that medical service provider for conditions not related to the compensable injury or illness.
 - b. The injured employee sought treatment from that medical service provider which was not prescribed by the injured employee's primary health care provider. This includes ongoing treatment by the allied health care professional.
 - c. The injured employee sought treatment from that allied health care professional after being notified that the treatment sought from that allied health care professional has been determined to be unscientific, unproven, outmoded, investigative, or experimental.
 - d. The injured employee did not follow the requirements of subsection 1 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28 regarding change of health care providers before seeking treatment of the work injury.
 - e. The injured employee is subject to North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28.2, and the health care provider requesting payment is not a preferred provider and has not been approved as an alternative health care provider under subsection 2, 3, or 4 of North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-28.2.
9. A medical service provider may not bill for services not provided to an injured employee and may not bill multiple charges for the same service. Rebilling must indicate that the charges have been previously billed.
10. Pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-05-33, a medical service provider may not submit false or fraudulent billings.
11. Only one office visit designation may be used at a time except for those code numbers relating specifically to additional time.
12. When an injured employee is seen initially in an emergency department and is admitted subsequently to the hospital for inpatient treatment, the services provided immediately prior to the admission are part of the inpatient treatment.
13. When an allied health care professional is asked to review records or reports prepared by another allied health care professional, the allied health care professional shall bill review of the records using CPT code 99080 with a descriptor of "record review". The billing must include the actual time spent reviewing the records or reports and must list the allied health care professional's normal hourly rate for the review.
14. When there is a dispute over the amount of a bill or the necessity of services rendered, the organization shall pay the undisputed portion of the bill and provide specific reasons for nonpayment or reduction of each medical service code.

15. If medical documentation outlines that a non-work-related condition is being treated concurrently with the compensable injury and that condition has no effect on the compensable injury, the organization may reduce the charges submitted for treatment. In addition, the allied health care professional must notify the organization immediately and submit:
 - a. A description or diagnosis of the non-work-related condition.
 - b. A description of the treatment being rendered.
 - c. The effect, if any, of the non-work-related condition on the compensable injury.

The allied health care professional shall include a thorough explanation of how the non-work-related condition affects the compensable injury when the allied health care professional requests authorization to treat the non-work-related condition. Temporary treatment of a non-work-related condition may be allowed, upon prior approval by the organization, provided the condition directly delays recovery of the compensable injury. The organization may not approve or pay for treatment for a known pre-existing non-work-related condition for which the injured employee was receiving treatment prior to the occurrence of the compensable injury, which is not delaying recovery of the compensable injury. The organization may not pay for treatment of a non-work-related condition when it no longer exerts any influence upon the compensable injury. When treatment of a non-work-related condition is being rendered, the allied health care professional shall submit reports monthly outlining the effect of treatment on both the non-work-related condition and the compensable injury.

16. In cases of questionable liability when the organization has not rendered a decision on compensability, the medical service provider has billed the injured employee or other insurance, and the claim is subsequently allowed, the medical service provider shall refund the injured employee or other insurer in full and bill the organization for services rendered.
17. The organization may not pay for the cost of duplicating records when covering the treatment received by the injured employee. If the organization requests records in addition to those listed in subsection 5 or records prior to the date of injury, the organization shall pay a charge of no more than twenty dollars for the first twenty-five pages and seventy-five cents per page after twenty-five pages. In an electronic, digital, or other computerized format, the organization shall pay a charge of thirty dollars for the first twenty-five pages and twenty-five cents per page after twenty-five pages. This charge includes any administration fee, retrieval fee, and postage expense.
18. The medical service provider shall assign the correct approved billing code for the service rendered using the appropriate provider group designation. Bills received without codes will be returned to the medical service provider.
19. Billing codes must be found in the most recent edition of the physician's current procedural terminology; health care financing administration common procedure coding system; code on dental procedures and nomenclature maintained by the American dental association; or any other code listed in the fee schedules.
20. A medical service provider shall comply within thirty calendar days with the organization's request for copies of existing medical data concerning the services provided, the patient's condition, the plan of treatment, and other issues pertaining to the organization's determination of compensability, medical necessity, or excessiveness or the organization may refuse payment for services provided by that medical service provider.
21. A medical service provider may not bill an injured employee a fee for the difference between the maximum allowable fee set forth in the organization's fee schedule and usual and customary charges, or bill the claimant any other fee in addition to the fee paid, or to be paid, by the organization for individual treatments, equipment, and products.

92-01-02-45.2. Medical service provider electronic billing responsibilities.

Medical service providers shall submit electronic medical bills and supporting documentation to the organization unless the health care provider is exempt.

1. A medical service provider is exempt from the requirement of electronic submission of medical bills if:
 - a. The provider submits fewer than fifty bills per calendar year; or
 - b. The provider can sufficiently demonstrate electronic medical bill implementation will create an unreasonable financial hardship and can provide supporting documentation, such as financial statements or other documentation which reflect the financial hardship. The exemption process must be initiated by the medical service provider. Granting an exemption lies solely within the organization's discretion and is not subject to appeal.
2. The organization shall identify and maintain an electronic billing source to enable the transaction of these services.
3. All medical service providers shall submit the most current version of the following electronic medical bill processing standards:
 - a. Professional billing - ASC X12 837P;
 - b. Institutional/hospital billing - ASC X12 837I; or 92-01-02-46. Medical services disputes.

1. This rule provides the procedures followed for managed care disputes. Retrospective review is the procedure provided for disputing the denial of payment for a medical service charge based on failure to request prior authorization or preservice review. Binding dispute resolution is the procedure provided for disputing managed care recommendations, including bill audit and review. Disputes not arising from managed care follow the reconsideration and hearing procedures provided by North Dakota Century Code section 65-01-16.
2. When the organization denies payment for a medical service charge because the medical service provider did not properly request prior authorization or preservice review for that service, the medical service provider may request a retrospective review of that service. Requests for retrospective review must be made in writing, within thirty days after the notice that payment for the service is denied, addressed to the organization claims adjuster assigned to handle the injured employee's claim. Requests for retrospective review should not be sent to the managed care vendor. The request must contain:

- a. The injured employee's name.
- b. The claim number.
- c. The date of service.
- d. A statement of why the medical service provider did not know and should not have known that the injury or condition may be a compensable injury.
- e. The information required to perform a preservice review or prior authorization of the service.

If the medical service provider knew or should have known that the patient may have a compensable work injury when the medical services for that injury were provided, the request for retrospective review must be denied. If the medical service provider did not know and should not have known that the patient may have a compensable work injury when the medical services for that injury were provided, a retrospective preservice review or preauthorization must be done in accordance with this chapter. If the organization continues to deny payment for the service, the medical service provider may request binding dispute resolution under this rule.

3. A party who wishes to dispute a utilization review recommendation first shall exhaust any internal dispute resolution procedures provided by the managed care vendor or the utilization review department. A party who wishes to dispute a final recommendation of a managed care vendor or a prior authorization or preservice review decision under section 92-01-02-34 shall file a written request for binding dispute resolution with the organization within thirty days after the final recommendation or decision. The request must contain:
 - a. The injured employee's name.
 - b. The claim number.
 - c. All relevant medical information and documentation.
 - d. A statement of any actual or potential harm to the injured employee from the recommendation.
 - e. The specific relief sought.
4. A party who wishes to dispute a denial or reduction of a service charge arising from bill audit and review must file a written request for binding dispute resolution with the organization within thirty days after the date of the organization's remittance advice reducing or denying the charge. The request must contain:
 - a. The injured employee's name.
 - b. The claim number.
 - c. The specific code and the date of the service in dispute.
 - d. A statement of the reasons the reduction or denial was incorrect, with any supporting documentation.
 - e. The specific relief sought.
5. The organization shall review the request for binding dispute resolution and the relevant information in the record. The organization may request additional information or documentation. If a party does not provide the requested information within fourteen days, the organization may decide the dispute on the information in the record.

6. The organization may request review by allied health care professionals, at least one of whom must be licensed or certified in the same profession as the allied health care professional whose treatment is being reviewed, or by an external expert in medical coding or other aspects of medical treatment or billing, to assist with its review of the request. The organization may request an independent medical examination to assist with its review of a request.
7. At the conclusion of its review, the organization shall issue its binding decision. The organization shall issue its decision by letter or notice, or for a decision that is reviewable by law, the organization may issue its decision in an administrative order instead of a letter or notice.

92-01-02-46.1. Pharmacy services disputes.

1. Binding dispute resolution must be used for disputing managed care recommendations, including point of sale alterations or denials for pharmacy services. Disputes not arising from managed care must follow the reconsideration and hearing procedures provided by North Dakota Century Code section 65-01-16.
2. When the organization denies payment for a pharmacy service charge the medical service provider or injured employee may request review of that service. Requests for review must be made in writing, within thirty days after the initial denial of payment, addressed to the organization claims adjuster assigned to handle the injured employee's claim. Requests for review may not be sent to the managed care vendor. The request must contain:
 - a. The injured employee's name.
 - b. The claim number.
 - c. The date of service and service denied.
 - d. The specific relief sought.
 - e. The information required to perform a review of the service. If the organization continues to deny payment for the service, the medical service provider may request binding dispute resolution under this rule.
3. The organization shall review the request for binding dispute resolution and the relevant information in the record. The organization may request additional information or documentation. If a party does not provide the requested information within fourteen days, the organization may decide the dispute on the information in the record.
4. At the conclusion of its review, the organization shall issue its binding decision. The organization shall issue its decision by letter or notice, or for a decision that is reviewable by law, the organization may issue its decision in an administrative order instead of a letter or notice.

1. For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
 - a. "Appropriate record" means a legible medical record or report from a provider, or any other relevant and material information, substantiating the type, nature, extent, and work-relatedness of an injury, which is adequate to verify the level, type, and extent of services provided.
 - b. "Bill" means a provider's statement of charges and services rendered for treatment of a work-related injury.
 - c. "Bill review" means the review or audit of medical bills and any associated medical records by workforce safety and insurance and may include review for duplications, omissions, actual delivery of billed services and items, accuracy of charges and associated coding, and improper concurrent bills for services involving evaluation or treatment of work-related and non-work-related problems.
 - d. "Wage verification" means federal and state income tax returns; W-2 forms; daily, weekly, biweekly, semimonthly, or monthly employer payroll statements; and income statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices.
2. The elements of filing for an application for workers' compensation benefits are satisfied when the organization has received:
 - a. The first report of injury form completed and signed by the injured employee or someone acting on the injured employee's behalf. The employer's report may be deemed admitted pursuant to North Dakota Century Code sections 65-01-16 or 65-05-01.4;
 - b. Wage verification as requested by the organization, if disability benefits are claimed; and
 - c. Appropriate records from the provider necessary to determine the type, nature, extent, and potential work-relatedness of the injury or disability.
3. The elements of filing for a reapplication are satisfied when the organization is in receipt of:
 - a. The C4 form or other correspondence requesting benefits signed by the employee;
 - b. Wage verification as requested by the organization, if disability benefits are claimed; and
 - c. Appropriate records from the provider.
4. The elements of filing for payment of a medical bill are satisfied when a bill review is completed and after the organization has received:
 - a. A bill from the provider or employee; and
 - b. Appropriate records from the provider or employee.
5. If the organization requests additional information from the employee needed to process an application or a reapplication and the employee does not provide the information, elements of filing are not satisfied until the employee provides the requested information.

6. The organization may waive elements of filing in conjunction with programs established for the expedited processing of selected claims.

92-01-02-49. Determination of employment.

1. Any service performed for another for remuneration under any agreement or contract of hire express or implied is presumed to be employment unless it is shown that the individual performing the service is an independent contractor as determined by the "common law" test.
 - a. An employment relationship exists when the person for whom services are performed has the right to control and direct the individual person who performs the services, not only as to the result to be accomplished by the work but also as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished. It is not necessary that the employer actually direct or control the manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient if the employer has the right to do so. The right to discharge is a significant factor indicating that the person possessing that right is an employer. The right to terminate a contract before completion to prevent and minimize damages for a potential breach or actual breach of contract does not, by itself, establish an employment relationship. Other factors indicating an employer-employee relationship, although not necessarily present in every case, are the furnishing of tools and the furnishing of a place to work to the person who performs the services. The fact that the contract must be performed at a specific location such as building site, does not, by itself, constitute furnishing a place to work if the nature of the work to be done precludes a separate site or is the customary practice in the industry. If a person is subject to the control or direction of another merely as to the result to be accomplished by the work and not as to the means and methods for accomplishing the result, the person will likely be an independent contractor. A person performing services as an independent contractor is not as to such services an employee. Persons such as physicians, lawyers, dentists, veterinarians, public stenographers, and auctioneers, engaged in the pursuit of an independent trade, business, or profession, in which they offer their services to the public, are independent contractors and not employees.
 - b. In determining whether a person is an independent contractor or an employee under the "common law" test, the following twenty factors are to be considered:
 - (1) Instructions. A person who is required to comply with other persons' instructions about when, where, and how the person is to work is ordinarily an employee. This control factor is present if the person or persons for whom the services are performed have the right to require compliance with instructions.
 - (2) Training. Training a person by requiring an experienced employee to work with the person, by corresponding with the person, by requiring the person to attend meetings, or by using other methods, indicates that the person or persons for whom the services are performed want the services performed in a particular method or manner.
 - (3) Integration. Integration of the person's services into the business operations generally shows that the person is subject to direction and control. When the success or continuation of a business depends to an appreciable degree upon the performance of certain services, the persons who perform those services must necessarily be subject to a certain amount of control by the owner of the business.

- (4) Services rendered personally. If the services must be rendered personally, presumably the person or persons for whom the services are performed are interested in the methods used to accomplish the work as well as in the results.
- (5) Hiring, supervising, and paying assistants. If the person or persons for whom the services are performed hire, supervise, and pay assistants, that factor generally shows control over the persons on the job. However, if one person hires, supervises, and pays the other assistants pursuant to a contract under which the person agrees to provide materials and labor and under which the person is responsible only for the attainment of a result, this factor indicates an independent contractor status.
- (6) Continuing relationship. A continuing relationship between the person and the person or persons for whom the services are performed indicates that an employer-employee relationship exists. A continuing relationship may exist when work is performed at frequently recurring although irregular intervals.
- (7) Set hours of work. The establishment of set hours of work by the person or persons for whom the services are performed is a factor indicating control.
- (8) Full time required. If the person must devote substantially full time to the business of the person or persons for whom the services are performed, such person or persons have control over the amount of time the person is able to do other gainful work. An independent contractor, on the other hand, is free to work when and for whom the person chooses.
- (9) Doing work on the premises of the person or persons for whom the services are performed. If the work is performed on the premises of the person or persons for whom the services are performed, that factor suggests control over the person, especially if the work could be done elsewhere. Work done off the premises of the person or persons receiving the services, such as at the office of the worker, indicates some freedom from control. This fact by itself does not mean that the person is not an employee. The importance of this factor depends on the nature of the service involved and the extent to which an employer generally would require that employees perform such service on the employer's premises. Control over the place of work is indicated when the person or persons for whom the services are performed have the right to compel the worker to travel a designated route, to canvass a territory within a certain time, or to work at specific places as required.
- (10) Order or sequence set. If a person must perform services in the order or sequence set by the person or persons for whom the services are performed, that factor shows that the person is not free to follow the person's own pattern of work but must follow the established routines and schedules of the person or persons for whom the services are performed. Often, because of the nature of an occupation, the person or persons for whom the services are performed do not set the order of the services or set the order infrequently. It is sufficient to show control, however, if such person or persons retain the right to do so.
- (11) Oral or written reports. A requirement that the person submit regular or written reports to the person or persons for whom the services are performed indicates control. By contract, however, parties can agree that services are to be performed by certain dates and the persons performing those services can be required to report as to the status of the services being performed so that the person for whom the services are being performed can coordinate other contracts that person may have which are required in the successful total completion of a particular project.

- (12) Payment by hour, week, month. Payment by the hour, week, or month indicates an employer-employee relationship, provided that this method of payment is not just a convenient way of paying a lump sum agreed upon as the cost of a job. Payment made by the job or on a straight commission generally indicates that the worker is an independent contractor.
- (13) Payment of business or traveling expenses, or both. If the person or persons for whom the services are performed ordinarily pay the person's business or traveling expenses, or both, the person is an employee. An employer, to be able to control expenses, generally retains the right to regulate and direct the person's business activities.
- (14) Furnishing of tools and materials. If the person or persons for whom the services are performed furnished significant tools, materials, and other equipment, it is an indication an employer-employee relationship exists.
- (15) Significant investment. If the person invests in facilities that are used by the person in performing services and are not typically maintained by employees (such as the maintenance of an office rented at fair value from an unrelated party), or if the person invests in other business expenses (such as equipment and supplies, vehicles, liability insurance, advertising, or other promotion of services), that factor tends to indicate that the person is an independent contractor. Lack of investment in expenses relative to the performance of services indicates dependence on the person or persons for whom the services are performed for such facilities and indicates the existence of an employer-employee relationship.
- (16) Realization of profit or loss. A person who may realize a profit or suffer a loss as a result of the person's services (in addition to the profit or loss ordinarily realized by employees) is generally an independent contractor, but the person who cannot is an employee. If the person is subject to a risk of economic loss due to significant investment or a bona fide liability for expenses, that indicates that the person is an independent contractor. The risk that a person will not receive payment for services, however, is common to both independent contractors and employees and thus does not constitute a sufficient economic risk to support a finding of an independent contractor.
- (17) Working for more than one firm at a time. If a person performs services under multiple contracts for unrelated persons or firms at the same time, that generally indicates that the person is an independent contractor. A person who performs services for more than one person may be an employee for each of the persons, especially when such persons are part of the same service arrangement.
- (18) Making service available to general public. If a person makes the person's services available to the general public on a regular and consistent basis that indicates an independent contractor relationship.
- (19) Right to dismissal. The right to dismiss a person indicates that the person is an employee and the person possessing the right is an employer. An employer exercises control through the right of dismissal, which causes the person to obey the employer's instruction. An independent contractor, on the other hand, cannot be fired without liability for breach of contract so long as the independent contractor produces a result that meets the contract specifications.
- (20) Right to terminate. If either person has the right to end the relationship with the person for whom the services are performed at any time the person wishes without incurring liability, that indicates an employer-employee relationship. If a contract can be terminated by the mutual agreement of the parties before its completion or by one of the parties to the contract before its completion to prevent a further breach of contract or to minimize damages, that indicates an independent contractor relationship.

2. The factors described in paragraphs 3, 6, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20 of subdivision b of subsection 1 must be given more weight in determining whether an employer-employee relationship exists.

92-01-02-49.1. Determination of employment status.

A person may apply to the organization for a determination of whether that person is an employer as that term is defined by North Dakota Century Code title 65. A person claiming not to be an employer under the Workers' Compensation Act has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that the person is not an employer. The request for a determination must be in writing and must be supported by evidence of the employment status of the requesting party. If the party is asserting an independent contractor relationship, the party must submit copies of written contracts, if any, establishing the relationship. The organization may request, and the party shall provide promptly, any additional relevant information bearing on the issue of the employer status of the party. After review of the evidence, the organization shall issue its decision determining the employment status of the requesting party under North Dakota Century Code title 65. This determination is effective for no more than one year from the date of the decision and may be reconsidered or revoked at any time by the organization. The requesting party has a continuing obligation to notify the organization of any material change in that party's business relationships, and a failure to notify the organization of a material change shall nullify the organization's certification as of the date of the change.

92-01-02-50. Other states' coverage.

1. The terms used in this section have the same meaning as in North Dakota Century Code title 65 and in North Dakota Administrative Code title 92, except:
 - a. "Covered employment" means hazardous employment principally localized in this state which involves incidental operations in another state. The term "covered employment" does not include employment in which the employer is required by the laws of that other state to purchase workers' compensation coverage in that other state.
 - b. "Employee" means any North Dakota employee as that term is defined in North Dakota Century Code section 65-01-02 who engages in covered employment and who is eligible to file for workers' compensation benefits in another state if the employee suffers a work-related illness or injury or dies as a result of work activities in that state. The term "employee" also includes a person with optional workers' compensation coverage in this state under North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-29 or 65-07-01 who engages in covered employment and is eligible to file for workers' compensation benefits in another state if that person suffers a work-related illness or injury or dies as a result of work activities in that state.
 - c. "Employer" means an employer as defined in North Dakota Century Code section 65-01-02, who is not materially delinquent in payment of premium, and who has employees engaged in covered employment. An employer is not materially delinquent in payment of premium if the premium is no more than thirty days delinquent.

- d. "Incidental operations" means business operations of an employer for fewer than thirty consecutive days in which the employer has no contacts sufficient, under the workers' compensation laws of that other state to subject the employer to liability for payment of workers' compensation premium in that other state and which operations do not require the employer to purchase workers' compensation insurance under the laws of that state.
2. If an employee, hired in this state for covered employment by an employer covered by the Workers' Compensation Act of this state, receives an injury while employed in incidental operations outside this state, the injury is subject to the provisions of this section if the employee elects to receive benefits under the workers' compensation laws of that other state in lieu of a claim for benefits in this state. This section applies only if the workers' compensation laws of the other state allow the employee to elect to receive benefits under the laws of that state. If the employee does not or cannot elect coverage under the laws of another state, the injury is subject to the provisions of North Dakota Century Code chapter 65-08.

The provisions of this section do not apply to:

- a. States having a monopolistic state fund.
 - b. States having a reciprocal agreement with this state regarding extraterritorial coverage.
 - c. Compensation received under any federal act.
 - d. Foreign countries.
 - e. Maritime employment.
 - f. Employer's liability or "stop-gap" coverage.
3. An employee who elects to receive benefits under the workers' compensation laws of another state waives the right to seek compensation under North Dakota Century Code title 65.
 4. The organization may pay, on behalf of an employer, any regular workers' compensation benefits the employer is obligated to pay under the workers' compensation laws of a state other than North Dakota, with respect to personal injury, illness, or death sustained as a result of work activities by an employee engaged in covered employment in that state, if the employee or the employee's dependents elect to receive benefits under the other state's laws in lieu of benefits available under the North Dakota Workers' Compensation Act. The term "dependents" includes an employee's spouse. The organization may pay benefits on behalf of an employer but may not act nor be deemed as an insurer, nor may the organization indemnify an employer for any liabilities, except as specifically provided in this section.

The benefits provided by this section are those mandated by the workers' compensation laws of the elected state. This includes benefits for injuries that are deemed compensable in that other state but are not compensable under North Dakota Century Code chapters 65-05 and 65-08. Medical benefits provided pursuant to this section are subject to any fee schedule and other limitations imposed by the workers' compensation law of the elected state. The North Dakota fee schedule does not apply to this section.

The organization may reimburse an employer covered by this section for legal costs and for reasonable attorney's fees incurred. Reimbursement will be considered only if the employer is sued in tort in another state by an injured employee or an injured employee's dependents relative to a work-related illness, injury, or death; or if the employer is alleged to have failed to make payment of workers' compensation premium in that other state by the workers' compensation authorities of that state. This reimbursement may be made only if it is determined by the organization or by a court of competent jurisdiction that the employer is subject to the provisions of this section and was not required to purchase workers' coverage in that other state relative to the employment of the injured employee. Attorney fees and costs will be paid as set forth in section 92-01-02-11.1. If the other state has an appeal process that differs from the organization, the organization may pay fees consistent with, but may not exceed the fees and caps set forth in section 92-01-02-11.1.

The organization may not reimburse any legal costs, attorney's fees, nor any other costs to a coemployee sued in tort by an injured employee.

5. If a claim for workers' compensation benefits is compensable in this state and a claim for workers' compensation benefits for the same injury or death is filed in another state, the organization may defend, at the organization's expense, using counsel and resources of the organization's choosing, any claim, proceeding, or suit against a North Dakota covered employer. The organization may exceed the fees and caps set forth in section 92-01-02-11.1 for this subsection. The organization has the right to investigate and settle these claims, proceedings, or suits.

The organization may not defend a claim for workers' compensation benefits, proceeding, or suit if that claim for workers' compensation benefits is not compensable in this state.

6. The organization may contract with a qualified third-party administrator to adjust and administer claims arising under this chapter. The organization shall pay the costs of the third-party administrator from the general fund.
7. Benefits paid on behalf of an employer pursuant to this section will be charged against the employer's account for experience rating purposes. The experience rating loss will be equal to the actual claim costs. The assessment charge plus appropriate penalties and interest, if any, levied pursuant to North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-04.4, will be assessed on all claims brought under this section.
8. The employer shall notify the organization when a claim is filed in another state by an employee covered by this section. The employer shall notify the organization of the claim in writing. The employer has thirty days after actual knowledge of the filing of a claim in which to notify the organization. That time can be extended for thirty days by the organization if the employer shows good cause for failing to timely notify the organization. If the employer fails to timely notify the organization when a claim is filed in another state by an employee covered under this section, the organization may not pay benefits under this section.

The organization may not pay costs, charges, or penalties charged against an employer for late reporting of an injury or claim to the workers' compensation authorities of the state of injury.

9. The exclusive remedy provisions of North Dakota Century Code sections 65-01-01, 65-01-08, 65-04-28, and 65-05-06 apply to this section.

To be eligible, entities must submit proposals that identify a vocational need and explain how the entity intends to meet it within a suggested period of time. When determining awards, the organization shall consider the validity of the identified need, a proposal's cost-effectiveness and its general impact on vocational services for injured workers. The awarding of grants rests within the discretion of the organization. Upon request, entities that are awarded grants must report to the organization regarding the use and efficacy of a grant with as much specificity as the organization reasonably requires. In event that grant is not used for the purposes for which it was awarded or an entity is nonresponsive to reasonable requests for reports, an entity may be required to repay the grant and the organization may pursue repayment by civil action.

92-01-02-54. Deductible programs.

The organization and an employer may contract for a deductible program. When a deductible program contract is entered, the employer shall reimburse the organization for benefits payable on individual claims up to the agreed deductible amount. The organization shall provide a reduced premium to participating employers based on an actuarial analysis of the contracted deductible and the rate classification of the employer. For purposes of calculating premiums, the experience rate utilized will exclude actual and expected primary losses.

For an additional premium, the organization may provide aggregate excess coverage limiting the maximum liability for losses of the employer during a policy period. Premiums will be derived from actuarial analysis and a selected aggregate limit. The aggregate limit will be agreed upon by the employer and the organization.

1. Eligibility. Eligibility for participation in a deductible program is based on the financial stability and resources of the employer. Participating employers must be in good standing with the organization.

The organization may require participating employers to submit to a financial audit to ensure financial stability. The audit may include a credit check and review of company financial reports.

The organization shall analyze each proposed contract based on risk analysis and sound business practices. The organization may refuse any deductible program if it determines that the proposed contract does not represent a sound business practice or decision. Past participation in a deductible program does not guarantee continued eligibility. The organization may decline renewal of any deductible program.

2. Claim payment. The organization shall process and pay claims in accordance with North Dakota Century Code title 65. The employer shall reimburse the organization for all costs paid by the organization on individual claims up to the amount of the contractually agreed deductible.

If a third-party recovery on a claim is made, the recovery will be allocated according to the terms of the contractual agreement between the organization and the employer, subject to North Dakota Century Code section 65-04-19.3.

The organization shall deduct any delinquent deductible reimbursements from any subrogation amounts recovered on any claim.

3. Premium payment. Premium is due at policy inception pursuant to the terms of the contractual agreement between the organization and the employer.
4. Financial security. The organization may require an employer to provide a bond, letter of credit, or other security approved by the organization to guarantee payment of future employer obligations incurred by a deductible contract.

The retrospective rating program option is based on aggregate claims costs for all claims for injury or death occurring in the contract year.
3. Claim payment. The organization shall process and pay claims in accordance with North Dakota Century Code title 65. If a third-party recovery on a claim is made, the organization's subrogation interest must first be applied to the amounts paid on the claim by the organization. If the subrogation recovery reduces the retrospective premium, the organization shall provide a refund to the employer.
4. Premium payment. Premium is due at policy inception.
5. Financial security. The organization may require an employer to provide a bond, letter of credit, or other security approved by the organization to guarantee payment of future employer obligations incurred by a retrospective rating contract.
